Judge McPherson Decides That Taxes Are Not First Liens.

JOHNSTOWN PEOPLE GET MONEY.

A Springfield, O., Clergyman Dies of a

HIS WIFE LEFT HIM FOR THE STAGE

Broken Heart Because

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH .! HUNTINGDON, PA., July 16.-Judge McPherson, of Lebanon county, who recently presided at the Argument Court here in the absence of Judge Furst, has just handed down an interesting opinion in a case heard before him, and which was in effect a radical change in all the State courts of the interpretation of the act of 1881, P. L. 45, entitled "An act to make tax assessment upon real estate a first lien." The literal acceptance of this act has been observed in this and all other counties in the State ever since the act was passed, but now, under Judge McPherson's opinion, it is declared unconstitutional and, therefore, inoperative any longer.

The case in question was an action brought by the County Commissioners of this county to recover back taxes, amounting to about $600, on unseated lands, controlled by A. P. W. Wilson et al. H. B. Dunn, the Auditor before whom the issue was first heard, decided against the allowance of the taxes, but this not proving muance of the taxes, but this not proving mu-tually satisfactory, the case was taken be-fore the last Argument Court, presided over by Judge McPherson. Witbout allowing the parties to enter upon the questions ar-gued at the hearing before the Auditor, Judge McPherson ruled that these had nothing to do in the way of disposing of the case, but that the constitutionality of the act of Assembly bearing on the case should first be taken into consideration. Judge Mc-Pherson reserved his decision until yesterday, when he filed an oninion declaring the act of 1881 relative to the case at issue unconstitutional. Since the Judge's decision has been received the legal fraternity here are unanimous in indorsing the Judge's views, although the constitutionality of the net has never before been given serious con-

AFFAIRS AT JOHNSTOWN. A Comparatively Quiet Time, With Funds Being Paid Out.

PRPECIAL TELEGRAN TO THE DISPATCH. JOHNSTOWN, July 16 .- The body of Mrs. Mary A. Swiniford, of St. Louis, was disinterred to-day and shipped to her former home. But one body was recovered, and it was unrecognizable. The people here are very much annoyed at the silence of Governor Beaver as to how he has expended the money, and they now fear he will have the relief fund mixed up so badly with the funds that the State is supposed to be furnishing that the two cannot be separated. The Board of Inquiry had a difficult case before it to-day. William Sweltzer resided in a part of the town that was not flooded, but was caught while on his way home from work and drowned. He leaves a helpless widow and several children, and the board has about determined to give them a share | coke worker, at Brownfield, who was so se with the other sufferers.

Judge Cummin did not come to the town to-day, but the Board of Inquiry handed out the orders to those entitled to relief in Frank Atkins, Lizzie Hunt, Emma Welli out the orders to those entitled to relief in the Fourth ward. " The Judge has announced the different districts that will be paid during the next week, beginning with Father Field, of Philadelphia, who has been in town since morning, says he finds a great need of bed clothing. He is also very much opposed to the saloons being open here at this time, and will call a meeting of the clergy and others one day this week to take some steps toward closing them.

James F. Graham, who has the $10,000 fund contributed by the New York World in charge, arrived here yesterday, accompanied by his wife and daughter. With the party was Nellie Bly. The party had considerable trouble securing comfortable quarters, there being no hotels of any preten-sions here. Mr. Graham has the money with him in currency, and the party expect to make a canvass of the place and apply it personally to the most destitute cases they

COLLINS DIDN'T ELOPE.

He Knows Nothing of the Wherenbouts of Mrs. Wyles-850,000 for a Leg. Youngstown, July 16 .- Charles Col-link, charged by Edward Wyles with eloping with Mrs. Wyles, was arrested at Silver Lake, O., last night by Detective Moyer and brought here this afternoon, where he gave bail for a hearing next Tuesday. The accused protests his innocence of the charge and most emphatically asserts that he has not seen or heard of Mrs. Wyles, and has no knowledge of where she is. Mr. Collins states that he had only a slight acquaint-ance with Mrs. Wyles, and that he had no thought of eloping with her or anyone else. He is desirous of a full investigation, as he asserts he can prove his innocence beyond a Owen Loftus, Jr., this afternoon commenced suit here against the Pennsylvania Company, claiming $50,000 damages for the loss of a leg while attempting to board a passenger train at Haselton in 1877. Loftus was 10 years old at the time.

WOOL AND PETROLEUM.

An Excellent Showing for the Products of Washington County. BURGETTSTOWN, PA., July 16 .- W. H. Witherspoon, of this town, took in 20,000 pounds of wool at Frankfort to-day, and expects to take in 10,000 pounds more on Thursday. The price paid was 33c and Well No. 1 on the James Saxton farm, at Murdochsville, is in and doing 50 barrels.

A Missing $400 Found.

SPECIAL TELEGRAN TO THE DISPATCH. 1 FINDLAY, O., July 16.-About a year ago Mary Hoover, an aged lady of this city, reported that she had been robbed of $400 in cash, the savings of many years, but as there was no evidence of a burglary the matter has ever since remained a mystery. Two weeks ago Mrs. Hoover died and left a will providing for the sale of some real estate to pay her debts and funeral expenses. Yesterday the executor in hunting through her effects found the missing money in a basket of carpet rags, where the old lady had doubtless hidden it herself and forgotten all about it. The amount was more than sufficient to pay all her debts, leaving the real estate clear for her heirs.

Two Attempts at Spicide. WARREN, O., July 16 .- D. W. Me-Clurky, an expert carriage builder, tried to commit suicide this afternoon by shooting and afterward escaped from his attendant and had nearly reached the river to make a second attempt, when he was recaptured.
McClurky was injured in the head by an exploding shell. His act was due to temporary insanity. He is a member of Tod Post, Youngstown, and moved here with his family a few months ago.

Hon, A. W. Acheson's Soth Birthday. WASHINGTON, July 16 .- Yesterday was the 80th birthday of Hon. A. W. Acheson. Quite a large number of his friends called upon him in the evening. A congratulatory letter signed by nearly all of our most prominent citizens was handed to him, which he gratefully acknowledged.

. DIED OF A BROKEN HEART. Clergyman Whose Wife Deserted Him fo

the Stage Gives Up Life. : SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] SPRINGFIELD, O., July 16 .- Rev. W. T. Lewis, pastor of the Free Will Baptist Church, died here in the city hospital today of a broken heart. He was born in England, graduating at Oxford in 1877. His parents were well-known theatrical peo-ple, and from them he inherited a love for the stage. Coming to America, he entered Harvard College, studied law, and was admitted to practice in all courts in Ohio. Rev. Lewis married in Washington, D. C., in 1881, Miss Ellie Johnson, daughter of George W. Johnson, who for years managed the old Madison Square Theater, a cotem-porary of Forest and the rest of the eminent

The girl had a predilection for the stage. Possessed of marked personal charms, and a very fair voice, she entered upon a course of study under Sidney Rosenfeld, and of study under Sidney Rosenfeld, and graduated from his tutorage well'equipped for the comic opera stage. She had appeared in "Olivette," "Mascot" and some of the lighter operas. In 1884 Mr. Lewis became a minister of the gospel. His wife settled down and became apparently a model Christian. Last October she surreptitiously left her husband and has not been heard from since. Mr. Lewis used every effort to find her, but failed, and sighed his life away. It was reported she was with the life away. It was reported she was with the Wilbur Opera Company, but the report was never substantiated. Rev. Lewis was small

It Opens at Steabenville and Promises to be STEUBENVILLE, July 16 .- The Ohio Valley Summer School of Methods of Teaching in session here under the auspices of the Ohio Valley Superintendents' Round Table is a highly gratifying success. Its first week began with 100 teachers in attendance; its second began to-day with 150, and a programme replete with able in-structors and increasing interest. The at-tendance is above that which was had at the last National Summer School at Saratoga, and the advantages, while not spread over as broad a field, with as many courses, are yet fully the equal of the former in the paths chosen and the work done.

GBEENSBURG, July 16 .- A private telegram from Philadelphia this afternoon announces the death of John Dorsey. Mr. Dorsey was a victim of the Johnstown flood having been one of the four commercial travelers quartered at the Hurlbut House. He has traveled for Rittew & Co., the Phila-delphia tobacconists, through Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and West Virginin for a number of years.

Counterfelters on Trial.

ERIE, July 16 .- The United States Court was occupied to-day with the -case of the Government against Curtis Fox and P. H.
